MIRA Mobile Prize 24'

We've been celebrating mobile photography for almost 10 years, with tens of thousands of images sent from all over the world.

In this edition, we have the following categories - DIGITAL ART, ARCHITECTURE, MINIMAL, LANDSCAPE, PORTRAIT AND DAILY LIFE - to which we have added a new category: images created using ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE. Why?

The mobile community has always been characterised by a spirit of openness towards the new, accepting the challenge to experiment. It is this same spirit that leads us to dare to risk what provokes and unsettles us: Artificial Intelligence in photography. We were also encouraged by the fact that many members of the mobile community are already presenting excellent work using AI.

This year's winner is Andréa Seligman, an architect and artistic photographer who has participated in several exhibitions in Brazil and many others internationally, and has been on the shortlist for the MIRA Mobile Prize several times.

The Portuguese winner is António Tedim, a self-taught photographer who, as he always says, prefers "photography with people in it".

Given the high quality of the photographs, this year we increased the number of images on projection to 200, which shows that mobile photography has indeed consolidated its place in the world of photography.

We dedicate this edition of the MMP to Marian Seid Rubin, a pioneer of mobile photography and an active and supportive member of our community!
